How to Save While Maximizing Fun and Comfort at Southern West Virginia's Adventures on the Gorge

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va., July 3, 2020 - "Go outside and play!"

Your mother's standing summer order is more valid than ever this summer, when we all need more Vitamin D, more of nature's beauty and more opportunities to stretch our limbs and feed our imaginations.

With 10 percent discounts for activities and accommodations booked online, numerous adventures and lots of accommodations choices - including four new pull-through RV sites - Southern West Virginia's Adventures on the Gorge is making following Mom's advice easier than ever this summer.

Lake and river activities do wonders for the mind and spirit.

With two zipline courses, ropes, rock climbing and BridgeWalk, the resort offers a wide range of aerial activities.

"I grew up outside in the New River Gorge, and it was in the outdoors where I learned my most valuable life lessons and skills," said Roger Wilson, CEO of AOTG. "One of those lessons was that immersion in an outdoor adventure - even a brief one - can do wonders for the mind and the spirit. Being outside is one of the most enduring medicines for what ails us."

The resort covers some 250 acres and is known for its river rafting, aerial adventures, lake activities and more.

Here are some suggestions for maximizing the experience:

Book online. Instead of filling out waivers and making payments after arriving, do as much advance work as possible by going online. Best of all, you will save 10 percent on activities and accommodations.

Bring your own accommodations. Recreational vehicles are extremely popular this summer, and AOTG has created four pull-through sites measuring 40 to 60 feet long and featuring 20/30/50 amp electrical hookups. The campground is also popular for those who just want to pitch a tent.

Get private accommodations. Freestanding and multi-unit cabins, duplex-style suites and luxurious houses are all available. These accommodations include some with multiple bedrooms, fully equipped kitchens, private decks with hot tubs, outdoor fire rings and living areas for guests to spread out while others are spacious with private outdoor decks.

Bring your own party. Not only is a rafting or ziplining party comprised of friends and family a great way to keep your "bubble" small, it's more fun winding your way through the rapids or forest. If you're rafting, don't forget to designate the correct people to sit up front and catch the brunt of the splashing.

Visit during the week. Weekdays feature a quieter and more relaxed atmosphere and a larger selection of accommodations for overnight guests.

The popular adventure resort in Southern West Virginia has also developed a set of guidelines for guests and employees during the Covid 19 pandemic.

For more information on these and other activities, visit the website or connect with the resort on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, TripAdvisor, YouTube, and Vimeo and by signing up for AOTG e-newsletter.
